Midwives who worked in Sydney and the Hawkesbury, NSW 1788-1900

My research involves discovering who the midwives were who lived and worked between Sydney and the Hawkesbury, NSW from 1788 to about 1900. My particular focus is both the details of their personal story and their midwifery practice.

I am a retired registered nurse and midwife. Midwifery was the particular kind of nursing that I loved and I worked as a midwife for about forty years predominantly at Westmead Hospital. However, I have always been interested in history and literature and since retirement I have time to pursue my passions. Currently these are focused on the history of the early colony particularly concerning midwives and midwifery practice. I also have many other interests as a member of Randwick Soroptimist Club, The Gogos and Mamas Group (supporting Grandmothers in Sth Africa), swimming and golf to name but a few.

If you have information on any of the midwives listed below or can add names to my list please contact me to share information: catch63@bigpond.net.au
